

Philip and Joan Shockman International Pharmacy Educator Scholarship

The Philip and Joan Shockman International Pharmacy Educator Scholarship has been established to increase patient-centered pharmacy practice in international settings, through education, whether that be in the classroom or clinical setting. Do your career goals include working as a pharmacy educator? Would you benefit from mentorship and hands-on exposure to clinical practice and leadership skills? If so, apply for this $2,500 scholarship!

Details and Criteria

- Applicants must be currently applying to the ITPD Program.
- Admissions applications are found HERE.
- Applicant must possess strong communication skills.
- Demonstrated interest in patient-centered pharmacy practice.
- Scholarship will be applied to ITPD tuition during the 2022-2023 academic year.

Preference given to those that provide education as:

- University, school, or college of pharmacy faculty
- Residency director
- Clinical coordinator
- Clinicians in the position to mentor others

Deadline to apply for the scholarship is December 1, 2022. Late or incomplete applications will not be accepted.

Application Components

1. Complete scholarship application found HERE.
2. Cover letter (letter of intent, 1-page limit) – The cover letter will express your interest in educating others in patient-centered pharmacy practice and showcase your current pharmacy education activities and future goals to establish innovative educational practices. The cover letter will be uploaded to your application.
3. Two letters of recommendation from Clinical Pharmacy / Pharmacy Practice Faculty or Adjoint Clinical Pharmacy Faculty sent from a verifiable personal or professional email address. Letters of recommendation will be submitted via email to Pharmacy.Online@CUAnschutz.edu. There is no specific form for recommenders to complete. A personal letter is acceptable, but it should include the recommender's name and contact information, as well as the student's name in the letter.

A committee of pharmacy educators will review the applications and provide feedback to the SSPPS scholarship committee, who will make the final decision.